

Dress

Medium

Wool knit, plastic sequins, goldtone metal studs, steel zipper, cotton

Description

A woman's shift dress of bright yellow wool knit fabric. The garment is cut as an A-line silhouette, draping softly at just above knee length, and the sleeveless armholes are bound with the same knit fabric on the bias. The dress closes via a back zipper with a hook and thread loop closure at the nape of the neck. The dress is ornamented with oversized iridescent plastic sequins widely spaced, held in place with small goldtone metal brads.
