Description

A street view showing a large five bay, two story house on the right with two chimneys, an attached smaller structure in the foreground, and what appears to be a privy behind it. There is an ornamental picket fence in front of the house, and a board fence to its right. Landscaping includes two trees in front, and one to the rear. What looks like a public pump appears to the left of the picket fence. A post and rail fence runs along the other side of the street. Other structures depicted in the distance include a hip roof, five bay, two story house with a high attic, two chimneys and a two story porch that sits behind a board or picket fence. To its left is a row of three attached two story, three bay dwellings, each with a single chimney. The drawing is heavily annotated. The names of "Mr. Guess" and "Miss Hayes" are noted over the buildings in the distance. Colors of various architectural features are also indicated, such as "red roof, white front, white fence, gable gray," etc.
