Description

A finely proportioned and detailed stand with a dish top. It is equipped with a birdcage mechanism that allows the top to swivel. Two cleats attached to the birdcage have a pair of pivot hinges so that when a brass catch on the underside of the top is released the top tilts into the upright position for storage. The central vase-turned pedestal ends in three cabriole legs dovetailed into the pedestal and reinforced with an iron spider screwed to its underside. The legs terminate in small pad or "snake" feet.
